

Accrochage
December 6 2008 – January 16 2009

Because of the upcoming holidays, Fifty One Fine Art Photography will give an 'accrochage' in de the months of December and January.

After a year of exhibitions from Kyungwoo Chun ('Thousands'), Ray K. Metzker ('Between Light and Lines'), Jean-Dominique Burton ('Voodoo'), Peter Granser and Kate Schermerhorn ('USA2') and the group exhibition 'Interiors', Fifty One Fine Art Photography decides once again to show a group exhibition.

This group exhibition will take place in the gallery from the 6th of December until the 16th of January. Works from established names like Masahisa Fukase, Hiromi Tsuchida and William Klein will be exhibited. All three artists of which the gallery has displayed work on the prestigious artfair Paris Photo in November of this year.

Also the '51 editions' will be shown again. Since 2004, Fifty One Fine Art Photography produces these limited editions of beginning and established photographers. Each photograph is an edition of 51, referring to the name of the gallery, and will be sold at the prize of 500 euros.

With the upcoming holidays in mind, these could be an ideal christmas gift.

Fifty One Fine Art Photography kindly invites you to come and take a look in the gallery during the 'accrochage'.
